

Welcome to San Miguel de Allende

Description

This city was founded in 1542 by the missionary Juan de San Miguel who gave it the name of San Miguel el Grande in honor of his devotion to the Archangel Michael. Already for the year 1826 and in honor of one of the most renowned heroes of the independence war "Ignacio Allende" the city takes its current name of San Miguel Allende.

San Miguel de Allende is one of the few cities whose architecture has been conserved, it seems that time stopped to preserve its monuments. Touring its cobbled streets, tourists can see countless art galleries, museums, convents and churches, and colonial-style mansions.

How to get there?

The International Airport of Mexico City, 294 km away, receives international flights from anywhere in the world.

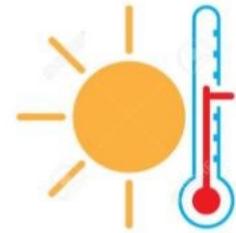

Guanajuato, also known as Bajío Airport, located in the city of Silao, 138 km away, receives flights from Aeromexico, United, Delta and American Airlines from Chicago, Dallas, Houston, Los Angeles, Las Vegas and Atlanta.

Queretaro Airport (QRO) located 69 km away, which also serves international flights.

* Ground transportation will be provided from Mexico City airport to San Miguel de Allende on Tuesday, July 30, in three different schedules which we will share as soon as possible.

Weather

Its average temperature ranges between 16 ° C and 22 ° C. The predominant climate in the municipality is dry-temperate, with moderately warm and rainy summers, while winters are cool.

The rainy season begins in June and lasts until mid-October.

Currency Mexican Peso / American Dollar

Countries that need a visa to visit Mexico <https://www.inm.gob.mx/gobmx/word/index.php/pa-ises-requieren-visa-para-mexico/>

What to pack?

The options that you cannot miss in your suitcase if you visit this beautiful place are: comfortable but casual clothing, comfortable shoes to walk the cobbled streets, and more formal clothes for dinners, meetings, and shows.

CPAAI
CPA ASSOCIATES INTERNATIONAL